

Highlander Book Award Winners

Each year, the Grammar school classes engage in a Mock-Caldecott, evaluating dozens of picture books published the previous year, and select four favorites. The following titles were the overall winners from each year chosen by the entire Providence student body and faculty.

2018

Escargot – by Dashka Slater, illustrated by Sydney Hanson. The story of a charming French snail who shows perseverance in seeking friendship and the delicious salad at the end of the book, as long as there are no carrots.

2019

I am a Cat – by Galia Bernstein. The story of a domesticated cat who teaches his feline peers that the qualities that we share can be often more important than our differences.

2020

The Rabbit, the Dark, and the Cookie Tin – by Nicola O'Byrne. Rabbit doesn't want to go to bed, so he decides to kidnap The Dark and trap it in a cookie tin so he can stay up all night long. But then The Dark reminds Rabbit of all the good things that darkness brings.

2021

A Little bit Brave—by Niccola Kinnear. A story of a rabbit who when asked to join a friend on an adventure is too scared to go, but then when he later regrets his decision and chooses to be brave, he finds a world of wonders of and plenty of courage to spare!

2022

The Rock from the Sky—by Jon Klassen. A witty story of suspense, the trials of friendship, that funny feeling you get that there's something off somewhere, and the realization that sometimes a choice you initially think is perfect might not be as perfect as you think.
